BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 3.—All that was left of Mrs. Demaris Sayre Rubright, 27-year-old New Castle woman who was literally blasted to bits in a mysterious automobile explosion near Portersville, will be removed tomorrow by relatives to St. Marys, Pa., for burial.

Relatives who were to accompany the remains were the mother of the victim, Mrs. Edna Sayre of Youngstown, N. Y.; Mrs. George Sinsinger, a sister of St. Marys, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clegg of Youngstown, brother-in-law and sister respectively.

Probe Startling Turn.
No charge had been placed today against James Rubright, husband of the dead woman, who is still being held in Butler state police barracks as a suspect despite announcement yesterday by District Attorney Edgar Negley of Butler county that a formal murder complaint would be placed against the Harmony mechanic by nightfall.

It was learned the district attorney and state police were investigating. (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Residents of this city will be glad to know that Dr. W. L. Steen, health officer, has pronounced the health of the city as good. Not one case of contagion is on the records. New Castle, to be frank, has had very good health for several years.

Slippery Rock creek water last night was lukewarm. Furthermore it was very clean. The heat drove quite a few bathers to various parts of the creek.

When Camp Fred L. Rents' 26 acres were donated to the local Y. M. C. A., the donor, Mr. Rents, made but one condition and that was that the grounds be turned over at some time each summer to at least 25 deserving underprivileged boys of New Castle. The Y has faithfully enforced that request and has even gone farther. Since receiving the gift almost 50 needy lads have shared the camp fun each season. Saturday of this week ends the period of stay for this year's happy group.

"It's raining"—most everyone said it—was the most strange words this morning. It's been several weeks since the city, and the county, too, has seen any shower of size. Few cared today how hard it came down.

If you're an employer hiring no one, the NRA emblem are yours for the asking. You don't have to have three employed. Sign the president's "reemployment agreement" blank and the right to hang the "blue eagle" is yours. The post office has the supply.

The women of New Castle and vicinity are now engaged in their summer canning and will continue. (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Mobilization of the buying power of the nation was under way today as the next big step in the recovery program.

Preparations are being made to launch a campaign throughout the nation which will seek to utilize the spending ability of those who have any, backed up by the new-made dollars of those whom it is hoped to add to the payrolls before the snow flies.

The latter phase of the recovery effort is getting under way as the committees in state and local communities organize. Backing up this national move were the pledges of additional thousands of local firms. (Continued On Page Two)

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., Aug. 3.—Thought to be the remains of a tramp who was sleeping in the barn at the time of the fire, a bundle of badly charred bones was found on the site of M. C. Thompson's barn in Sandy Creek township early today.

The barn burned Monday night with a loss of about $6,000, and as far as is known there were no animals in it at the time. Coroner Applegate and County Detective Leyshock investigated the find and the coroner will make a further study of the bones to determine whether they are human or animal.

Recovery Act Brings
State Opinion

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 3.—Many Pennsylvania municipalities, already indebted to their legal limits, may not be able to take advantage of the public works provisions of the national industrial recovery act.

An opinion from the department of justice today ruled that municipal subdivisions will be held to constitutional limitations which permit indebtedness of not more than two per cent of the assessed valuation.

Opinion Rendered.
Harris C. Arnold, deputy attorney general, wrote the opinion at the request of Lewis E. Staley, secretary of forests and waters.

The procedure involved under the act would be for the federal government to construct a public building or some other public work, and in doing so would acquire title to the completed project. The government (Continued On Page Two)

Johnson was back at his desk in the Commerce building after a flying trip to Harrisburg, capital of the Keystone state. Soon after Johnson's return to the capital, Pinchot, Lewis and Moses put in their appearance and went into conference with Johnson.

The meeting broke up shortly before midnight when Johnson said:

Probe Confession In Fiendish Crime

Of Small Boy

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 3.—Solution of San Diego's "mutilation murder" hinged today upon the finding of a bottle in which are the ears of the victim, Dalbert Aposhian, 7, according to San Diego police.

Phillips Edwards, 19, a June graduate from San Diego high school, confessed calmly to police that he kidnapped and killed young Aposhian, took his body to a rowboat, dismembered it and put the ears into a bottle which he weighed down with a piece of steel and threw into San Diego bay.

Edwards' confession is not a hoax, and United States navy divers locate the bottle and its gruesome contents, the murder will have been solved, Harry Kelly, captain of detectives, declared.

The ears and several other parts of the body were missing when it was found floating in the bay last week.

Edwards was arrested as an itinerant in Los Angeles and brought here after he had confessed he killed Aposhian.

(International News Service)
DENVER, Aug. 3.—A raging torrent of water roared through Cherry creek, in the heart of Denver, early today, the worst flood in the city's history.

Blake street—the Denver wholesale district, was under three feet of water and thousands of dollars of damage was believed to have been done to wholesalers' stocks.

At 7:30 Cherry creek, which separates South Denver from the city proper, was overflowing at a number of points in the downtown district.

Bridge Collapses
The bridge crossing the creek at Curtis street collapsed.

The waters had spread over an area nearly nine blocks wide in the vicinity of Blake street in the wholesale district.

Water was in basements and in some cases up to the first floor in scores of wholesale buildings.

At that hour, however, police along the banks of the creek near the outskirts of the city reported the water had started receding.

The York street bridge, which had previously been closed to traffic, was reopened.

No lives were known to have been lost, but an ominous silence hung over the valley just below Castlewood dam, which gave way at midnight to add its churning waters to the torrent. It was feared an unknown number of farmers and prospectors may have been trapped by the waters and swept to their deaths.

U. S. ECONOMY POLICY IS BEING REVISED

Provide Funds To Meet Slashes

Some Of Economy Cuts By Congress Are Being Nullified Now

MANY JOBS ARE NOW BEING SAVED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Revision of the drastic economy policy inaugurated by the administration was under way today as funds were provided to bolster departments slashed by congress in annual appropriation bills.

The huge $3,300,000,000 public works fund will be utilized to supply funds necessary to maintain many departmental activities. Already $75,000,000 has been allotted to departments from the fund, a considerable part of it for activities scuttled by congress.

Undo Work Of Congress
While the effect of the policy is to undo much of the laborious and controversial work of congress and director of the budget Lewis Douglas, it is defended on the ground that creation of jobs is the keystone of the administration.

Latest allotments from the public works fund include $2,500,000 to carry on the regular work of the geological survey, which was slashed heavily. The money will enable the department to keep many geologists who were threatened with loss of jobs. A similar allotment of $2,600,000 was made for the coast and geodetic survey.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Rexford Tugwell, a member of the "brain trust," Secretary of Interior Ickes, public works administrator, and Secretary of Commerce Roper, all a part of the public works board, apparently have used their influence for their departments.

Funds Allowed
The agriculture department has received $2,893,519 from the public works fund. Among the activities it will finance are control of the gipsy moth, and white pine blister rust. The commerce department received $8,676,551, including such activities as repairs to fish hatcheries, improvement of the light-house service and airways. The interior department received $5,542,219, most of which went to Boulder Dam.

Postponement of the effective date of several mergers decreed by President Roosevelt to make for economy and efficiency is expected to result in the maintenance of jobs for many government workers.

You can't expect much in a land where the victim praises kidnappers because they treated him well.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men
Unless two plates of bile juice daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and encephaloid. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all. Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay today. Get it at drug stores. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No other medicine in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. Get it at drug stores. Refuse "something just as good" for it may give you loose bowels or acid reflux. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. C1933, C.M. Co.

game. For a few cents difference that the shirker may offer in price by refusing to help, the buyer must not help the shirking employer and lose this one chance to put our people back to work.

"This is a magnificent thing—this chance for a whole people to get together—one for all and all for one. It has never been done before. It all depends on cooperation. Cooperation is getting together. The way to get together is to be fair and a fair man cannot get together with an unfair one and he ought not to. To both men have got to be fair. On that basis any two men in any 125,000,000 people can get together and they cannot get together on any other basis. That is all the president is asking and that is the secret of everything he is doing.

Just now this state is torn with dissension. Just now when the safety of the whole country depends on getting together—two great groups are standing apart. You cannot get together with a man throwing bricks at him. You cannot do it in refusing to talk to him. I would talk to the devil himself if I thought it would make hell any cooler.

"There never was a quarrel that did not have a little wrong and a little right on both sides. I don't know what is right and what is wrong in this coal strike but I know one thing. The president has set up a plan by which both sides can talk it over under this administration and in a gold fish bowl where everybody can see and where at the end, the president himself will say what he thinks is right. The coal codes are now in. The hearing will start within two weeks. I may be putting my foot in it, but I don't see why blood should flow and men should refuse to talk with other men, just at a time when the whole country is sacrificing so much to put men back to work."

STATE MUNICIPALITIES ARE HANDICAPPED IN SECURING U. S. FUNDS

would then lease the project to the municipal subdivision in which it is located, giving the municipality an option to purchase at the end of a specified time.

"In our opinion," said the ruling, "the making of a contract between the municipal subdivision and the United States whereby a public works project was to be constructed by the United States and held by it under such a lease agreement would be the incurring of indebtedness by the municipality. If the amount of such indebtedness carried the total debt of the municipality beyond the constitutional limit, the transaction would be void."

Exceptions Made.

The constitution, according to the opinion, makes exceptions when the indebtedness is incurred for the construction or acquisition of water works, subways or street railways, except in Philadelphia. The exception applies, however, only when the revenue from the project is sufficient to pay interest and sinking fund charges or if the obligations incurred are liens against the property and do not constitute a liability.

Certain exceptions are made in the constitution for Philadelphia, but the only other alternative for Pennsylvania municipalities which desire to enter such public works agreements with the federal government, and are restrained by the two per cent limit, is to ask the voters to approve a loan. That would have to be done at a regular election. With electoral approval municipalities may extend their indebtedness to seven per cent of the assessed valuation.

each with the prospect of increased employment as the agreement takes effect.

Races Code Terms.

Stimulating further the employment effort Hugh S. Johnson, the national administrator, eased the terms of the blanket code for a larger group, as he had done earlier for the retail food and chain stores.

The effect was an immediate signing of approximately 20,000 blanks, and the adherence under temporary agreements, pending adoption of formal codes, of a group of major industrial manufacturers, including among others, the electrical manufacturers, the radio industry and a number of textile manufacturers.

Work continued with the cotton garment code, successful termination of which will mean, according to R. O. Kennedy, Troy, N. Y., manufacturer, additional employment of 40,000 to 50,000 workers.

There was a promise the petroleum code would finally be completed, after threatened deadlocks throughout the week, while committees were attempting to agree on controverted points.

Alfalfa Bill Heard From.

Re-enforced pressure for price fixing was brought to bear through Governor Alfalfa Bill Murray, Oklahoma; F. P. Walsh of the consolidated oil interests; Ernest Thompson, Texas railroad commissioner, and others.

J. F. Faulkner of Baltimore, representing filling stations, urged abolition of the leasing and licensing system. On this point it appeared the committees were prepared to leave a decision to the federal trade commission. If that body does not act within 60 days, it has been decided, Johnson will be permitted to include a provision in whatever code is finally adopted.

Meanwhile it virtually has been agreed, until the federal trade commission acts, new contracts under the present system will be banned and no renewed contracts under one year will be allowed.

Under executive order the wool textile code will become law Aug. 14. It establishes a minimum wage of $14 in the north, $13 in the south for a 40-hour week in both sections, with no exemptions for learners or other class of workers.

Forty-three per cent of those now engaged, it is estimated, are now receiving less than the prescribed minimum wage, so that enactment of the code means adding approximately $100,000 per week of the payroll, as the average is now $12.40 per week. Approximately 27,000 additional workers will be required, by reason of the shorter work hours.

Agreement was near also on hours and wages involved in the cast-iron which have been in progress. Workers are holding out for a 24-hour week, a guaranteed minimum of $25 per week, and no employment under 18 years, and no apprentices until 18 years, and wages of 25 cents up to 35 cents per hour.

O'CONNELL CASE CLEANUP PROVES DIFFICULT JOB

tions—has disturbed Attorney Snyder. He said this silent treatment is placing him in a false light.

Strewel is held. Strewel, meanwhile, has been taken in hand by District Attorney John T. Delaney, who is working in close harmony with Dan O'Connell. No one outside of Delaney and a few police officials know Strewel's exact whereabouts. He has been "detained" for several days.

"Dan O'Connell knows many things—told him by Strewel and myself which have not been made public," declared Attorney Snyder. "If they can't clean this case up from the information we have given something is wrong."

Efforts to communicate with Dan O'Connell were unavailing. At his summer camp in the Heidelberg mountains, 25 miles south of here where young "Butch" O'Connell is recuperating from the experience of his 23-days in captivity, it was said "Dan is taking a few days rest and will not see any one."

Two policemen armed with sawed-off shotguns, challenged every person who attempted to enter Dan O'Connell's place.

Snyder expressed the opinion the authorities should have no difficulty in "placing the crime within an area of five miles."

Were Not Amateurs.

"There is no doubt in my mind that a New York or a New Jersey mob, with Albany connections committed this crime," said Snyder, "and they certainly were not novices."

"This was evident by the fact that when young O'Connell was allowed to glimpse of the kidnapers during his long captivity they showed him machine guns. Also they had medicine for him when needed, indicating preparedness on their part."

"The kidnapers' letters also showed clearly that they were not novices. I saw the letters—seven or eight of them. Most of them were written in long hand, but the penmanship was so disguised it was impossible to tell whether the letters were written by man, woman, or child. A few of the letters were typewritten."

Within Five Miles.

Explaining why he believed the authorities should be able to establish the location of the kidnapers' hideaway "within an area of five miles," Snyder said:

"The police could figure out the distance Strewel went after he met the kidnapers in New York City, in the vicinity of 220 Street and Broadway. He went from there to another, and was finally picked up by the kidnapers' car. It required about three hours to do this maneuvering. Figuring the time to and from it could be logically assumed Strewel was never more than an hour and one-half from the spot."

"The kidnapers certainly did not cross any ferries or bridges when they had young O'Connell in their car ready for delivery because they made no long stops."

District Attorney Delaney meanwhile announced it was his intention to begin presenting the O'Connell kidnapping case to the Albany county grand jury next Monday, regardless of whether arrests have been made.

ing a new and startling angle of the case which they believe will reveal the motive behind the fendish slaying and the filing of charges was delayed pending completion of this angle of the probe.

Negley said today he had learned the Rubrights were married in February, 1931, at Ebensburg, Pa. For a short time after their marriage they lived at Butler, separated, however, as they were at the time of the tragedy last Monday.

Mrs. Rubright lately had lived in a New Castle rooming house and her husband resided with relatives at Harmony.

Funeral services will be held from the funeral home of M. A. Berkimer and son at 408 South Main street Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Nothing new was disclosed today by District Attorney Edgar H. Negley in the case. State and county authorities are still checking leads in the past two days and some action is anticipated within the next 24 hours.

WALL OF WATER REACHES DENVER CAUSING DAMAGE

ported to have crumbled like card houses before the rushing water.

Bridges were swept away before the flood, which came down in a great wall of water 30 feet high and nearly a mile wide.

As the flood reached Denver it clung close to the course of Cherry creek.

Ordinarily dry, the 20-foot concrete floodwalls of the stream were filled to overflowing. It appeared that a number of bridges in downtown Denver might be washed away at any minute.

Prisoners Moved
Prisoners in the county jail, on the banks of the creek, were hastily moved to higher ground. The city garage, also on the creek bank, was flooded.

Truck gardeners who had arrived at the municipal market on Cherry creek with their produce were vacated.

Scores of socially prominent Denver persons were hustled from their beds as police, sirens screaming, spread the alarm.

The flood, originating after a cloudburst, swept down from the dam, through Franktown, Parker and Sullivan, before it reached Denver.

Telephone communication with Franktown was destroyed. It was impossible to learn what had happened there.

At Parker the telephone operator told International News Service that the flood had swept by the town some distance away. Again at Sullivan the waters detoured around the town. Both operators had spent hours warning residents in the area of the coming flood.

At seven a. m. today the floodwaters were reported rising in Denver.

A police radio bulletin warned squad cars to again patrol the flood-land area and force spectators to higher ground.

"The waters have risen three feet in the last few minutes," the announcer said. Other cars were dispatched to aid persons marooned in their homes near the creek bank.

Woman Is Drowned
Cloudbursts and heavy rain which had fallen for 12 hours in Denver were credited with causing a small flood near Mathieson, Colo., causing the death of Mrs. Claude Hill, 50, who was swept away by a wall of water six feet high that tumbled through the yard of her ranch home.

Other floods were reported at Simla, Fountain and Ramah, in the same area. Railroad bridges were damaged and highways washed out.

Hugh Payne, caretaker at the Castlewood dam, made his way to Castlewood, Colo., early today and revealed the disaster at the dam.

He expressed the belief that persons in the valley below the dam must have drowned.

"It came so quick I had no time to warn them," he said.

Special Deputies Are Arrested In Death Of Miner

Lodge Deputies In Jail For Fatal Shooting Of Mine Strike Picket

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 2.—William Black, 28, and Jack C. Brosius, 29, both of Uniontown, were arrested today and lodged in the county jail here in connection with the fatal shooting of Louis Padosky, a mine strike picket, Tuesday.

Both are special deputy sheriffs. The men were arrested on orders of Fayette County District Attorney Wade K. Newell. No charges were preferred.

Black, when taken into custody, still had his head bandaged from injuries he received when he was badly beaten in the riot in which Padosky was killed. The outbreak was one of three which broke out at H. C. Frick Coke company mines Tuesday morning. Padosky was killed at Colonial No. 3 mine.

CONFERENCE ON STRIKE OF MINERS, IN WASHINGTON

Lewis both refused to discuss the mine controversy with reporters.

Also attending the conference was Edward P. McGrady, former official of the American Federation of Labor, now an assistant administrator of the U. S. R. A.

The Frick Company is a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation which operates bituminous mines solely for the production of coke. It has been in the forefront of the coal industry's fight against organized labor.

Using the recovery act as authority for collective bargaining the United Mine Workers attempted to organize the mine. A strike resulted and spread to other mines.

Advance Hearing
As a result of Johnson's hurried visit to Harrisburg, he announced last night that hearings on the coal code had been advanced from Aug. 14 to Aug. 9.

He said 15 separate codes had been submitted by various associations and groups of the bituminous industry. None has been accepted by the administration.

Most of the operators seek a 40 hour week but those of the mid-west and south demand a 48 hour week. The proposed wage scales vary from 63¢ in Illinois to 25¢ per hour in the southern mines. The Northern Control Association which claims 60 percent of the tonnage in the eastern mountain states have proposed a 40 hour week with a wage scale of 50 cents per hour and 37½ cents outside.

IMAGINARY CONVERSATION

He: The trouble with me is that I have an inferiority complex.

Me: The trouble with you is that you think you have an inferiority complex.

He: No, I know I have an inferiority complex. My family didn't understand me when I was a child. They never encouraged me. They gave me no confidence. My father was irritated because I was timid, and tried to shame me into doing things. Other children were pushed forward in school, while I, who needed to be pushed ahead, was left in the background and became a shrinking child who had no courage.

Me: Yes, that's what happens to many children. Some of us get perhaps too much confidence. A bit of praise at an important moment sometimes swings a whole life into a definite course. I had a teacher, when I was a kid, who praised something I wrote. I wrote more, to get more praise, and decided that was the thing for me. Later on, in college, I thought I'd like to be a teacher of philosophy, but a subtle fellow who corrected one of my philosophy papers wrote on the margin that I wasn't much of a philosopher, but I'd probably make a newspaper man. So I was practically driven into working for a newspaper. But you have not any inferiority complex.

He: No?

Me: You can usually detect that complex by a man's actions. If he has it, he's frequently loud, bumptious, pushing. He suspects a little weakness in himself, some inferiority, so he makes a big noise to disguise his imperfection. Napoleon, poor and skinny, probably had an inferiority. So have many of the great soldiers, inventors, explorers, business men, and writers. Particularly the writers. They're not content just to be themselves. They want to push out ahead and make a mighty splash in the waters of life. More egotism than you suspect is hidden in many a mild nature.

He: Are you suggesting that my real trouble is not humility, but egotism?

Me: Well, I might not have been so frank as all that, but now that you mention it—I'll admit that's my idea.

He: You've got a nerve. How about you?

Me: Let's avoid that subject. (End of the conversation.)

GAINING FRIENDS

At times you feel like a misfit in the world, or that too few persons appreciate the good sense, balance and brain capacity that you possess. No many have been willing to overlook your idiosyncrasies to the extent that they will continue to seek your society in spite of the disagreeable traits you may show.

Thus you feel quite alone, at times.

This thought brings a little sadness.

No very close friends, and none to whom you can confide your innermost feelings if you so desired.

If you lived formerly in a village or small city, where it is easier to find confidential friends and keep them, you are missing the friends of former years.

In the city you have more advantages and there are just as many who can be depended upon as friends, but the trouble is to find them.

Find out what groups include those of your age and lines of education.

There must be college groups, church groups, literary or drama groups.

Identify yourself with some group you feel is stable and reputable. Go slowly and intelligently about it, proving yourself worthy as a friend and you will finally meet those sympathetic to your ideas.

Just Folks

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

LIFE GOES ON
Life goes on. No end appears to its laughter and its tears. Wise men die, but just as wise men tomorrow will arise. All that is will still go on after we who toil are gone.

Life unaltered keeps its pace; There's a man for every place. Every day sees death and birth, Marriage, melody and mirth. While the great sun lights the sky Men will toil as you and I.

Rain and sunshine, joy and care, All who come to earth will share. What we've known of pain and woe Those who follow us shall know; And in gardens much like ours Still will bloom the self-same flowers.

Men will wonder, just as we, What beyond this earth can be. Never will the mind of man Solve the Great Creator's plan. Push over it as they will, Life will stay a mystery still.

Unity Of Action Commended As Recovery Drive Opens

National Demand For Success In Regulation Of Business And Industrial Life Heralded As Response To President's Address

Chief among the reactions to the national recovery efforts of President Roosevelt and the organized forces of the government is the evidence, reported by the press, that unity of purpose has made notable progress. Patriotic zeal is observed, accompanied by statements that the Administration has staked all on this policy, that complete co-operation is necessary, and that general good will is potent in the struggle toward better conditions.

"President Roosevelt has charted a bold course and will stand or fall on its success or failure," says the ALTOONA MIRROR, with the belief that "an overwhelming majority will co-operate." That the promised co-operation will win the battle for recovery is the assurance given by the COLUMBIA (S. C.) STATE while the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL avers that "the drive has met with a kindly response," and the LIMA (O.) NEWS declares that "it is a noble undertaking and we cannot afford to shrink or evade or attempt to circumvent the true meaning of the program."

Lauding the spirit imparted by the President, the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL suggests that "you can almost feel as if you had been in the White House in personal conversation with the President on the state of the nation," and finds reason for confidence in "this manner, the tone of his voice," and in his harmony with "the purpose and hopes of the citizenry."

THE CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER feels that "a major development in American history is here in its first stages," and that "the response to it from every section of the country is as inspiring a demonstration of national solidarity as one has ever seen in a time of peace."

"The recovery movement is in the making," declares the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, voicing agreement with the President that "it can succeed if the American people determine that it shall."

A protest against the attitude of the London Times in offering the idea of "universal disaster" if the "great American experiment fails," the NEW YORK TIMES describes the movement as one which is enlisting "hope and courage," and advises that "the thing to do is to place the emphasis on the positive motives, the promising aspects, the gains already recorded."

THE SPARTANBURG (S. C.) HERALD-JOURNAL declares that "it is a time that will test the courage, the comradeship, the patriotism of all men," and that "it is a time for whole-hearted, earnest, hopeful co-operation."

"Industry is co-operating," asserts the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS, while the DES MOINES TRIBUNE quotes a local leader to the effect that "the President has asked a moratorium on selfishness," and the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD avers that Nebraska "will labor, without stint, to make the program successful." The Chicago JOURNAL OF COMMERCE holds that "the flood of answers to the President's appeal, choking the mails and the telegraph wires, is ample proof that Americans are expecting great things." The CHICAGO TRIBUNE promises "a sincere and whole-hearted response from the main body of American business men and from the nation." The OSHKOSH DAILY NORTHWESTERN recognizes "an enthusiasm equal to that caused by a wartime appeal to national patriotism." The MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE calls (Continued On Page Five)

Queen Isabella's jewels did not finance the trip. Columbus, who had received large sums of money for previous service at the Spanish Court, demanded a peerage, the office of admiral and that of viceroy of any lands he should discover, and laid down other conditions under which he would seek a new route to the Orient by sailing westward. His proposal was rejected. He expressed his disgust to Luis de Santangel, a Jew, chancellor of Aragon, started to France. Santangel induced Ferdinand and Isabella to recall him, showed them the advantages to Spain and the

HOW MONTH GOT ITS NAME
—The Roman month Sextilis was named Augustus in honor of Augustus (originally Octavianus) adopted heir of his granduncle, Julius Caesar and first emperor of Rome. Augustus wanted the month to be as long as Julius' (July), so a day was taken from February. Though married three times, he had no sons, was forced to leave his empire to his stepson, Tiberius, son of Livia, who had been yielded to Augustus when he was 21 by her complicitous husband. Livia took good care of her husband, picked his mistresses for him, kept his food from being poisoned. Sole master of the Roman world at 34 he ruled wisely and well for 37 years. But his reign is best remembered because of an event in his empire of which he never heard: the birth of Jesus, in 6 B. C.

MUCH of the present agitation for greater federal efforts in combating crime overlooks the important fact that the federal government's powers in this connection are limited. Except where federal laws are violated, the crime problem in the United States remains one for the states and local communities to handle.

Joseph B. Keenan, special assistant to Attorney General Cummings and director of the federal government's anti-racketeering campaign, took occasion the other day to state that there is no intention of usurping the law enforcement function of states and local communities.

"The federal government," he said, "has the privilege and duty of enforcing its own laws, so it must be realized that the design of the department of justice at this time does not include any plan to attempt generally to preserve the peace in each community included in every one of the 48 states of the union." He declared it "does not intend to usurp the authority of others, nor in any manner to relieve local authorities of their privilege and obligation of enforcing various laws of the several states."

He declared the present need is for some central body to aid local authorities in an orderly manner in meeting the crime problem. But, he warned, "The problem of devising a plan whereby the federal government can best perform this function is a serious one and, naturally, requires a substantial amount of study."

This observation is one with which there should be general agreement. To federal government already has injected itself deeply into the affairs of the states at many points. For it to take upon itself local law enforcement duties would be another serious inroad.

Yet, many states are finding it impossible to curb crime of various forms. Already it has become necessary for the federal government to take a hand in kidnappings through the new law which gives it authority to do this where the abduction victim is taken by his captors from one state into another. Unless the states and local communities improve their methods of enforcement, the federal government may have to go further in this direction in behalf of national welfare.

This should be avoided if possible. It is the duty of the states to use their utmost efforts in strengthening their enforcement machinery before admitting their helplessness and calling on the federal government for assistance.

DUBIOUS OUTLOOK FOR NORTH ATLANTIC PLANES

For one solid week the seaplanes of General Italo Balbo's fleet have been held at Shoal Harbor, Newfoundland. Fog and unfavorable weather are responsible. Fog and unfavorable weather also retarded for a week their western flight. In coming to this country and in getting a start over the ocean for their homeward trip they have lost a full fortnight.

Colonel Lindbergh, mapping out landing fields in Greenland, may find excellent spots for the purpose, but of what good are they if they can not be utilized? And all experience thus far has indicated that to maintain a regular schedule for planes flying the northern course is not practical at the present time. The day may come when fog can be conquered. It is in a measure by mail planes servicing the United States. They are in constant touch by radio with their fields and offices, but flights across the wide spaces of water that stretch between Newfoundland and the Irish coast.

There will have to be a deal of experimenting with instruments not yet perfected before a pilot can start on a given hour of a given day from New York and land on the other side of the Atlantic with timeable accuracy. And until this assurance can be given, we can look for nothing like a regulated service.

INTERNATIONALISM WANES

One of the remarkable developments of the past few weeks has been the way in which interest in international affairs has waned in the United States. From the moment it became apparent that the London conference could accomplish little, if anything, the people of the country wisely turned their attention once more to the domestic problems of the United States.

The development is of course a very salutary one. It is true that we must work out our own problems in the United States. Europe cannot bring prosperity to us. We must pull out of the ditch ourselves, by our own efforts. That this is generally realized from the white house down to the humble hamlet, is one of the most reassuring developments of the day.

It must be said to the credit of President Roosevelt that he has refused to subvert the interests of the United States to those of the world, that he has not sacrificed advantages which the United States possesses in the vain hope that this could be more than made up by concessions from Europe. The international conference had only one chance to succeed, and that was at the expense of the United States. Had we been willing to peg the dollar at a high figure, compared with European currencies, had we been willing to make tariff agreements that would have permitted the flooding of American markets with foreign goods, had we agreed to pool our resources with Europe and abate our neutrality in case of trouble, an agreement would have been hailed by the European diplomats and by the internationalists in our own country as a big step forward in the interest of world brotherhood and international cooperation. But it would have just about finished the chances of the United States to restore prosperity and stability to the long suffering American people. That President Roosevelt refused to accept the bait offered him is all to his credit.

No matter what the future has in store for him, so far as the development of his domestic national recovery program is concerned, the people of the United States will have cause to remember him gratefully for one thing which he did not do—and that was to listen to the internationalists and trade off American interests in the hope of getting advantages in Europe. Let us hope that he continues on the same path so far as our international relations are concerned.

New York Man Given Release By Kidnap Gang

Nathan Baskowitz, Better Known As Bass, Is Released On "Credit"

UNABLE TO RAISE RANSOM DEMANDED

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Nathan Baskowitz, also known as Nathan Bass, a real estate dealer and minor sports promoter, who was kidnaped Monday night, was released early today "on credit."
His kidnapers had demanded $25,000 ransom, but Bass was given his freedom on promise to pay $2,000 as soon as "convenient."
Bass's brother, Arkie, who is associated with Hubert Fugazy in the operation of a sports bowl at Coney Island, persuaded the kidnapers he could not raise the $25,000 ransom money and would pay the smaller sum later, according to police.
Bass said he was released somewhere in Long Island City, Queens. He said after he was grabbed by three men in an automobile on Monday evening he was blindfolded and taken to a hiding place. He said he did not know where he was kept. Last night he was placed in an automobile and driven around for several hours before he was released.

He said he never saw his captors. They treated him well and fed him three or four times daily.

Missing Baden Girl Found By Police

BADEN, Pa., Aug. 3.—A four-day search for Sarah Elizabeth Vulgrig, 15, daughter of Chris Vulgrig of Mellong avenue, was at an end today following receipt of word that she has been located by Philadelphia police in the company of George Gural, 19, Ambridge shanty dweller, who is believed to have lured her away from a firemen's carnival, which she attended here last Saturday night.

Accompanied by the girl's father, Police Chief William B. Cryster left for Philadelphia after a teletype message brought word that the pair was being held in morals court. The man and girl were picked up at Twelfth and Wood streets, the message said.
While details of the case were not available here, it was said that the couple had traveled to Philadelphia on a freight train. Absence of clues following the girl's disappearance caused great anxiety to her parents, who feared that she had met with foul play. So far as the parents know Sarah Elizabeth had never seen the man prior to the night of her disappearance together. She is expected to be returned home tomorrow.

Lewis A Candidate For City Controller

Court Street Engineer Announces For Republican Nomination On Platform Of Efficiency

WILLIAM S. LEWIS

William S. Lewis, a resident and property owner of 608 Court street, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for city controller. Mr. Lewis was born in New Castle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewis of Winter avenue, and has spent his life here save for the time he attended State college and later was a member of the American Expeditionary Forces. He is an engineer by profession and was for some years employed by the Pennsylvania Engineering Works. His announcement follows:

"While the office of city controller is entirely ministerial in its scope and hence not one of policy making, it is nevertheless an important office. It has been called the 'watch-dog of the city treasury.'

"It is such a job as should not be filled except by one qualified to audit accounts, to interpret expenditures made to ascertain whether or not they are legal, and to make a full and complete report of all expenditures. Such a job cannot be properly filled by one not familiar with accounts.

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for city controller. As a property owner I am naturally alive to the fact that economies in government are necessary. If nominated and elected I pledge myself to lend the support of the office, insofar as it is possible to effect economies.

"It is my opinion that my training and experience lend themselves to an efficient discharge of the duties of city controller and I respectfully request the support of the Republican voters on September 19."

Auto Driver Is Held For Court After Inquest

Curtis Aiken, Of Ellwood City, Faces Charges For Crash Deaths

INQUEST IS HELD WEDNESDAY NIGHT

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—Curtis Aiken, Fourth street, Ellwood City is being held for the September term of court on charges of involuntary manslaughter as preferred by the state highway patrol of New Castle at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace J. E. Van Gorder, this morning.

This was the result of a coroner's inquest in the American Legion rooms on Sixth street last night, where the coroner's jury found that Henry Bianco, 22, died in a car enroute to the Ellwood City hospital about 12:40 a. m., July 29 and Miss Bessie Braden, 21, at 4:30 a. m., of injuries received as a result of being struck with a car driven by Curtis Aiken and charged that the accident was a result of the carelessness of Mr. Aiken.

Aiken Arrested
The coroner's jury was composed of E. F. Hartman, A. W. Richards, J. R. Little, Charles Baird, A. J. Howell, and L. C. Barnhart. Following the inquest last night Aiken was taken to the Lawrence county jail in the custody of Corp. L. J. Lawton and Patrolman W. E. Stoops of the Highway Patrol and County Coroner Orville Potter. Bond was arranged this morning and Aiken was released pending a trial on charges of involuntary manslaughter at the September term of court.

District Attorney John S. Powers, Attorney Thomas W. Dickey of New Castle, and Atty. Raymond Humphrey of this city represented the commonwealth, the Bianco family and Aiken respectively, at the inquest.

Dr. H. H. Davis of this city was the first witness called and told of the injuries received by Miss Braden. She had two large lacerations in the back of the head, one in front, a fracture of the skull and nose, a broken left leg, and many smaller lacerations. He left her about 3 a. m. last Saturday after administering treatment and understood that she had passed away at 4:30. He did not examine Mr. Bianco but learned from Coroner Potter that he had died from a fractured skull. He also sustained two large lacerations on the front of the head and one in the back. The body was considerably bruised and cut.

Eye Witness Testifies
Miss Tessie Gretch of 8 Fountain avenue, the only eye witness to the fatal accident and who was in the company of the couple at the time, was next called. According to her story, she was on her way home from a visit at Ellport and had recognized Miss Braden and Mr. Bianco just in front of her and proceeded to catch up with them at the old Burnstown stop on the Wurttemberg road, route 488. The three had walked quite a distance from the station on the left hand side of the road facing the traffic. They were at the bottom of a small incline and the beginning of a slight curve to the right in the road when they had heard a car coming from their rear in the direction of Ellwood. Miss Gretch was unable to determine the speed of the car. Upon hearing the car she immediately moved over to her left in order to allow her companions to come off the pavement. Mr. Bianco was on the concrete, Miss Braden just off, and she herself was the farthest away, walking next to the left hand bank of the road.

Miss Gretch stated that she had unconsciously looked to see if the car was about to pass them and noticed from the corner of her eye that it was coming directly toward them, from the right hand side of road. In the next instant the car struck her two companions. She was horrified and several moments after this was unable to observe clearly what had happened. When she had got a grip of herself again she noticed that the car had not stopped. She then immediately proceeded to secure help from a home along the roadside where there were several. Orville Harper came running out of the home and when she had explained to him what had happened he ran to render aid to the injured.

Aiken Returns
On her way returning to the scene of the accident Miss Gretch had observed a car with one light coming from the direction of Ellwood which she later learned was Aiken. She estimated that another car did not appear at the scene following the accident, until about 5 minutes later. This machine was a touring car and had come before Aiken returned she said and was driven by Rick Rocco of this city. Soon after the arrival of Rocco's car Aiken returned to the location of Miss Braden's body and with the assistance of several people who had gathered on the scene, placed her in his car and accompanied by a Mr. McCullough proceeded to the Ellwood City hospital. Immediately after they had left for the hospital Mr. Harper, Mr. Rocco and Fred Couch, whose home was near the scene of the accident placed the body of Mr. Bianco in Rocco's car and rushed him to the hospital. Mr. Rocco was accompanied by Miss Gretch and Mr. Couch. Miss Gretch stated that she believed Mr. Bianco was dead upon being placed in the car. They had passed the Aiken car at the bottom of the hospital hill on Ninth street, it was off the road on the sidewalk and apparently something was wrong with it.

It was sometime after midnight that Miss Gretch had caught up with Miss Braden and Mr. Bianco. When questioned by Attorney Humphrey if she had talked to Aiken after his arrival there, she stated that she had cussed him and called him a hit and run driver. Aiken responded by saying "I'm here. Shut up."

Officers Testify
Officer K. M. Musser of the Ellwood City police force told how he had received a call about the accident about 12:30 and in company of Officer Edwin Clarke and Constable Elmer Frishkorn went immediately to the scene of the accident and conducted an investigation. Both bodies had been removed to the local hospital before their arrival. Measurements were taken and it was found that the body of Mr. Bianco which was nearer Ellwood City was 425 feet from borough line. The distance between his body and Miss Braden's was 44 feet. The position of the bodies was determined by the large blood spots on and off the highway. Patrolman Musser further stated that going in the direction of Ellwood City there was glass on the left side of the road. A shoe of Miss Braden's was found 17 feet away.

In answer to a question from District Attorney Powers, Officer Musser declared that he and Officer Clarke had placed Aiken under arrest at the local hospital, where both had talked to him. Both officers asserted that an alcoholic odor could be detected on Aiken. Upon being asked on how the accident had happened, Aiken stated to Officer Musser "It could happen anyway." For awhile Aiken resisted the officers when they attempted to arrest him, Officer Musser asserted. No other explanation of the accident was given Officer Musser.

In describing the damages to the car which the local officer had investigated, he announced that the bumpers, radiator and lights were smashed in, and the left side and fenders were damaged. The car had been inspected when it was parked off the road at the bottom of Hospital Hill.

In answering several questions Officer Musser revealed that there was about six or seven feet of berm to travel on the left side of the road going in the direction of Ellwood and about 16 feet of berm on the right side, or just near the old Harmony track.

Aiken was later taken to the office of a local physician by the two policemen to determine his sobriety. In the physician's opinion he was found to be not intoxicated. When questioned by the two policemen and the physician if he had been drinking, Aiken replied that he had been drinking some new beer. He was then brought to the city building and turned over to the state highway patrol and later locked up.

Residents Testify
Orville W. Harper and Fred Couch, residents in the vicinity of the accident, told how they had been awakened by the accident and a little more than a minute had been on the scene. The former had been met by Miss Gretch near his home, as she was seeking aid. Harper stated that he had seen a car coming down the road about 100 feet from his house and had also heard the two accident victims and Miss Gretch talking as they passed his home. He paid no particular attention to them until after the crash. Both he and Mr. Couch were running out of their respective homes to the accident scene. As Mr. Harper was running out of his yard in the company of Miss Gretch he observed someone turning his car around near the tube mill, several hundred feet from the accident scene. This later proved to be Aiken. He came upon the girl's body along the left side of the road and with the assistance of a Mr. Crawford, a resident who was also attracted by the noise, placed her in the Aiken car. Aiken assisted from the inside. She was bleeding very freely at this time.

Harper then ran to the body of the youth where he found Mr. Couch attempting to pull it out of a ditch. The car of Rick Rocco was flagged down and the body placed in it by the three men. Rocco was accompanied to the hospital by Miss Gretch and Mr. Couch. Mr. Harper estimated the distance between the two bodies about 50 feet and discovered much blood at both places and also an auto horn and much glass. Mr. Harper in answering a question stated that there was a fairly tall bank on the left side of the road, where the bodies were located. No other car was at the scene until after Aiken had turned around and returned.

Constable Elmer Frishkorn, who was left on guard at the car explained how he had found a pint whiskey bottle in the right hand pocket, having a few drops of what he believed to be liquor. He also bore out Officer Musser's testimony of the damages to the car and investigated the accident and was also present during the measurements.

Patrolman Edwin Clarke also bore out the testimony of the other two officers and added that he had conversed with Aiken at the hospital and when asked how the accident had happened, Aiken stated that there were four people straddled across the road and he had hit two of them. He also testified of detecting alcohol on Aiken's breath. Corp. L. J. Lawton of the State Highway Patrol at New Castle told of coming to Ellwood City in the company of Highway Patrolman W. E. Stoops to investigate the accident. He declared that he could not obtain satisfactory or definite answers from Aiken in regards to the accident, except that he hit two people and went on a piece and turned around. When asked why he did not stop immediately, Aiken answered, "To be honest with you, I tried to make a get-away, but decided I couldn't make it and so turned around. I wasn't brought up that way." Corp. Lawton also testified that he had detected alcohol on Aiken's breath. Aiken had told him that he had taken two bottles of beer with a girl and boy friend at a local restaurant. The three had been to Beaver Falls for a ride before coming here.

John Mastilak of this city, testified that Aiken's had forced him off the road about 600 feet from the scene of the accident while he was walking in the direction of Ellwood City on the right hand side of the road. He had to jump aside to avoid being struck. He had also assisted in placing Bianco's body in Rocco's car. He asserted that Aiken's lights were good.

Aiken On Stand
Curtis Aiken then took the stand and described his movements of the evening previous to the accident. He testified that the motor in his car was not functioning properly because of a leak in the water hose. The fan strayed the water back on the spark plugs and coils causing the motor to miss. He had gone to Ellport earlier in the evening for his girl friend, Miss Mary Sharey, and later picked up Alex Pecora in town, and the three went for a ride to Beaver Falls and New Brighton. They returned about mid-night and stopped off at a local restaurant for some beer. Aiken then took Miss Sharey to her home in Ellport.

On his return to this city, after crossing the Harmony railroad tracks he testified that there were people walking on both sides of the road, so therefore he depressed his light beams for their benefit. He remembered of seeing one person jump from the road further back from the accident scene. He proceeded down a small incline and at the beginning of a slight curve in the road to the right he went through a cloud of steam coming from a Tube Mill sewer. After he had come out of this he stated that there were people walking on both sides of the road. He immediately swerved his car to the left to avoid hitting the people on the right, and ran into those on the left. Then he heard a scream and knew that he had hit someone and asserted that he had lost his head and went up as far as the Tube Mill before turning around.

Upon his return to the scene he found Miss Gretch waiting there and cursing him. He declared that he had rendered what assistance he could and took Miss Braden to the hospital as fast as possible. From this point he verified Mr. Couch's testimony after his car had gone out of commission and was backed up over the curb.

He was at the local hospital when the two local policemen arrived and stated that he had resisted them when they used rough tactics. He was taken to a local physician's office as previously testified. Aiken stated that when Officer Clark notified him that Bianco was dead, he cried and said that it was a tough break. He was then brought to the local lockup and turned over to state highway patrolmen. He stated that he was unable to sleep all night. He pointed out that his car was still missing before the accident.

Upon being questioned by District Attorney Powers what had become of the three people walking on the right side of the road, Aiken stated that he did not know. No one has been able to trace them since. He declared that the whole six were trampled out along the road, and the three on the left were in the middle of the road. Aiken was unable to account for the fact that the bodies and glass and parts of the car were all found on the left side of the road, to District Attorney Powers. He also stated that he did not notice the damage to his car except the left hood. He said that he was traveling slow and that his lights and brakes were good. When asked why he did not stop, Aiken replied: "I didn't think about it, but swerved to the left instead."

Frank Sharkey and his daughter Mary and Alex Pecora testified that Aiken was sober when they had been with him and had nothing to drink but two bottles of beer. The latter two and William McNeal bore out Aiken's testimony as to the miss in his engine.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schauntz and Mrs. Wilhelm Anderson testified that they were present when Constable Frishkorn discovered the whiskey bottle in Aiken's car, but stated that they could not detect whiskey odor. It was very faint.

Rick Rocco and Lester Hazen, who both talked to him late in the night, were of the opinion that Aiken was not intoxicated.

State Police Officer Takes First Air Solo

State Police Officer Paul Engle has had some interesting experiences in his life with the law, but never before and never again will he have one just like that of yesterday evening.

There is one first solo flight in an aviator's life—and Officer Engle had his last evening. He took off from the New Castle airport at about supper time, piloting the plane owned by the New Castle Aero club.

Asked for his impression of the flight, Officer Engle in talking to a reporter this morning, enthused very little, and his description was about as brief as that given by Slim Lindbergh upon landing in Paris.

"Thrill? Oh, not so much. A little, yes." He smiled in that calm, collected way of his.

"The landing? It was fair, just fair. Not too good and could have been worse."

That's all. But those who have "soloed" know the rest. It is an experience that can't be pinned down on paper with printer's ink. May you always have happy landings, Engle!

When H. R. Kemp, above, of Long Beach, Cal., held 13 spades in a contract bridge game—the perfect hand that falls once in every 8,000,000 deals—the thrill he experienced was short-lived. The dealer, he bid seven spades. H. L. Tweed, at his left, bid seven no-trump and he made his contract when his partner led a heart. Tweed held the ace, king, queen, jack, four, three, two of clubs; ace, king, queen of diamonds, and ace, king, queen of hearts.

Police Report Fire Started By Two Men Seen Carrying Cans Of Oil

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 3.—Fire today drove a star junction miner and his family from their old, 8-room brick house and inflicted estimated damage of $700 before it could be extinguished by Perryopolis firemen.

The miner, Matthew Starings, an employee of the H. C. Frick Coke company at its Victoria mine until the present strike started, reported he was warned of the fire by the barking of his dog.

Rushing out of the house, he said he saw two men running away, leaving behind two cans and a bottle that smelled of oil.

Authorities were investigating a possible theory that incendiaries caused the blaze.

Employers Here Pledge Support In Work Campaign

Re-employment Needed Now To Keep Pace With Rising Prices, Rentz Says

N. R. A. Emblem Will Identify Employers Who Subscribe To Movement

While messages continued to pour into Washington from all parts of the country today, indicating that the nation has lined up solidly behind the President's Emergency Re-employment campaign, the local committee was receiving pledges of 100 percent support from the citizenry of this community.

"America has gone to war," said Fred L. Rentz, chairman of the local organization of the National Recovery Administration drive. "Yes, that's exactly what has happened. We are at war against a cruel and malicious enemy as ever attempted to riddle Old Glory. Just think for a moment of the suffering and death that have come from this frightful depression of the last four years."

"We simply must get our people back to work," continued Mr. Rentz, "and this present drive will do it. Here in Lawrence county we hear words of praise and encouragement on every hand from those who have studied the plans and realize that they are practicable and economically sound. I refer, of course, to the two plans for the adoption of the industrial codes and the so-called blanket code."

"Very briefly the situation may be explained in this way: In order to build up the nation's buying power to keep pace with the increasing commodity prices, there must be wholesale re-employment—not sometime in the near future but right now. So President Roosevelt, acting under the Industrial Recovery Act, first entrusted to General Hugh S. Johnson the organization of the vast task of working out acceptable industrial codes. This work has been progressing rapidly and satisfactorily. Then in order to get things up still more and get men back to work more quickly throughout the nation, thus raising the mass buying power to keep pace with increasing commodity prices, President Roosevelt has inaugurated the blanket code. This was quite fully gone into in his recent nationwide radio address. Substantially all concerns employing two or more persons are asked to join up with the president in a covenant to maintain wages at least at a certain minimum level and restrict working hours within certain limitations."

Every employer who signs this solemn agreement with the president of the United States will immediately have the right to display the N. R. A. emblem in his place of business and on his merchandise, too, if he desires.

"This will notify the public just what places of business have fallen in line with this tremendously important national patriotic movement, and all such firms are, of course, entitled to the same loyal consideration from the general public that would be theirs were we actually at war with an outside enemy and these firms had by some fine display of patriotism shown special loyalty to the commander of the army and navy."

"The members of our local organization here in Lawrence county have taken off our coats, rolled up our sleeves and we have pledged the Administration in Washington to work to the limit of our ability to get every working man and working woman in Lawrence county back to work before many more weeks."

"We are getting wonderful encouragement and I am sure that I shall have the honor of reporting to President Roosevelt and Recovery Administrator Johnson that Lawrence county has no slackers in this great drive to put an end to the depression and all the misery and suffering that have gone with it."

"Yes, America has gone to war—and, as usual, America will win."

Claim Democrats Will Elect Mayor For Pittsburgh, Pa.

William T. McNair, Prominent Attorney Will Be Candidate Of Democrats

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Pittsburgh will elect a Democratic mayor to replace its present Republican incumbent, according to a prediction today from Joseph F. Guffey, state Democratic leader.

Guffey and Warren Van Dyke, of Harrisburg, the state chairman, conferred with party leaders for several hours here last night and later departed for Atlantic City.

Guffey said it was his understanding Allegheny county Democrats had requested William T. McNair, a Pittsburgh attorney, to be the party's mayoralty candidate.

The state leader conferred briefly with Charles D. McAvoy, of Norristown, whom he is supporting for the post of United States attorney for the eastern district, and with Hugh Brady, of Scranton, presumably about appointments for Lackawanna county.

This has always been taken to mean that if the receipt was issued following the date of the election two years before, it still is valid and a receipt issued on September 20, 1931 is good for the present registration."

Only county or state tax receipts are good for registration purposes. City, school, borough or township receipts are not valid. It must be for county or state taxes.

Charlie Purdy Is Staunch Backer Of N. R. A. Campaign

Grocery Store Owner Will Not Buy Bread From Bakers Not Connected With N. R. A.

(International News Service) CHARLOTTE, Pa., Aug. 3.—Hey, Gen. Johnson, here's a staunch backer of the NRA campaign.

Charlie Purdy, Dunlevy's only grocer, declared a boycott today on bread not made in bakeries operating under the blue eagle.

Eight trucks in a row stopped at Purdy's corner store. To each, the grocer said:

"Where's your blue eagle?" Drivers tried to explain that major baking companies were completing their code and would have the insignia in a few days.

"That makes no difference. There will be no bread sold in my store not made under the NRA. Now get."

Housewives took immediate steps to lift the boycott. En masse, they drove to Charleroi and appealed to James I. Heffran, leader of the NRA here. Heffran explained the situation to Purdy.

Said Purdy: "Okay. I'll wait 'til they get them. But my rule still goes—no signs, no bread."

JAPAN STARTS BUILDING GREAT NAVY

Nation Embarks On Huge Project

See Abrogation Of 5-3-3 Pact Of Nations In Coming Years

DISARMAMENT PLANS NULLIFIED

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Japan's decision to embark upon the greatest naval building program in the history of the empire was generally interpreted in Washington today as marking the complete failure of disarmament gestures at Geneva, and what is perhaps more important, the abrogation of the 5-3-3 naval treaty upon its expiration in 1935.

The new Japanese naval estimates call for expenditures of $71,000,000 the next fiscal year, and $190,000,000 the next, a great deal of which will be devoted to building new cruisers, destroyers, aircraft carriers, and submarines. In addition, the air force is to be materially strengthened.

Japan Quits Treaty Pact.

All this is accepted here as carrying out Japan's intention of building up to parity with Great Britain and the United States, notice of which was served two years ago. Unless Britain and the United States acquiesce, then Japan is prepared to abrogate the Washington treaty of 1922 which fixed her naval strength in ratio of 3 as against 5 for the two great occidental powers.

Abrogation of the 5-3-3 treaty would virtually nullify all the progress that has been made toward naval disarmament since the war. Although disarmament conferences have followed each other with monotonous regularity since 1921-22, they all have proved more or less fruitless and the Washington treaty has stood almost alone as the single great accomplishment in that direction.

Japan's intentions regarding construction have been known in Washington for some time. This knowledge was responsible, in part at least, for the administration's policy in including a 32-ship building program in the $3,300,000,000 public works bill. At that, American naval officers contend that the American navy will still lag behind the Japanese when both new programs are fulfilled.

Two Girls Killed By Auto Returning From Vigil At Bier

Were Taking Auto Ride After Watching At Side Of Chum Killed Sunday

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 3.—While taking an auto ride to stave off sleepiness, after watching during the night at the bier of their chum, Nora Senf, who was burned to death near Vienna, O., Sunday, following an auto crash, Mary Rita McGuire, aged 21, and Rita Fullman, aged 16, met death early Wednesday morning, less than a block from the Senf home.

The two girls had gone for a ride with Miss Dorothy Davron, in order to get some fresh air to stave off sleepiness. They had wished to remain awake until the funeral Wednesday morning. They had driven less than a block away from the Senf home, when the machine of Miss Davron collided with a milk truck driven by Eugene Garritano. Miss McGuire, a cousin of Miss Senf, was instantly killed, while Miss Fullman, died a few moments later of a fractured skull and broken neck.

Counties Reject Proposal To Buy Bridge

Beaver And Lawrence County Officials Have Conference On Proposal

Lawrence county is not in the market for second-hand bridges. Neither is Beaver county. This seems to be the outcome of a joint meeting of Lawrence and Beaver county commissioners held on the old Harmony street car bridge on the Lawrence-Beaver county line Wednesday afternoon.

The bridge was formerly used by the Pittsburgh, Harmony & Butler Street Railways company. Since the abandonment of the line the bridge has been used by residents in the district mentioned and they have been urging that the two counties purchase the bridge. It is now owned by a junk dealer who purchased it from the railways company.

A price of $3000 was set on the bridge but was turned down by the two boards of county commissioners, first because it was not on any highway, and secondly because the counties felt they did not want to spend the money at this time. They suggested that the township supervisors might be interested.

Reed Announces Candidacy Today

Edwin O. Reed To Seek Republican Nomination For Register And Recorder

EDWIN O. REED

To the Republican Voters of Lawrence County:
While many throughout the County already know that I am a candidate for Register and Recorder, I am taking this means of saying so publicly and definitely. I am a Republican and seek the nomination of that Party. For several weeks I have been meeting daily, voters representing every corner of the County and every phase of its activity. Their encouragement has been hearty and has been given freely.

Freedom from outside domination of any kind as well as ability to meet the requirements of the office seem to be the prevailing ideas in the public mind at the present time. I am submitting myself as a candidate expecting to be judged by this standard, and if your investigation convinces you of my general fitness for the office, I will appreciate your active support.

Yours very truly,

Guardsmen Get Relief As Rain Arrives In Camp

Medical Corps Swamped By Heat Prostration Cases -At Mt. Gretna

(International News Service)
CAMP RICKARDS, MT. GRETNA, Pa., Aug. 3.—Despite the fact that martial activities were somewhat retarded by a stifling five-day heat wave, close to 5000 guardsmen now rounding out their second week in the field, managed to keep abreast of the scheduled training.

A light rain yesterday afternoon brought relief from the intense heat, and a rest for medical units who were swamped with heat prostration cases during the wave.

Advanced details of the 104th cavalry regiment arrived today at Colebrook, three miles from Mt. Gretna, to erect tentage for the unit ordered to take the field from August 5 to 19. Three men from each troop were selected for the detail. Units of the regiment come from armories in Harrisburg, Lewistown, Clearfield, Tyrone, Altoona, Chambersburg, Waynesboro, Carlisle and Pottsville.

The third battalion of the 12th infantry regiment, under Major Joseph R. Carvill, with companies from Bradford, Kane, Warren and Franklin left camp yesterday for an overnight stay in the mountain section to the north and a maneuver against a mythical enemy.

The stimulated action took place early this morning, after which the western Pennsylvania guardsmen prepared to return to camp. The movement was done in army trucks, the guardsmen covering a distance of more than 50 miles.

Guardsmen Get Relief As Rain Arrives In Camp

Medical Corps Swamped By Heat Prostration Cases -At Mt. Gretna

(International News Service)
CAMP RICKARDS, MT. GRETNA, Pa., Aug. 3.—Despite the fact that martial activities were somewhat retarded by a stifling five-day heat wave, close to 5000 guardsmen now rounding out their second week in the field, managed to keep abreast of the scheduled training.

A light rain yesterday afternoon brought relief from the intense heat, and a rest for medical units who were swamped with heat prostration cases during the wave.

Advanced details of the 104th cavalry regiment arrived today at Colebrook, three miles from Mt. Gretna, to erect tentage for the unit ordered to take the field from August 5 to 19. Three men from each troop were selected for the detail. Units of the regiment come from armories in Harrisburg, Lewistown, Clearfield, Tyrone, Altoona, Chambersburg, Waynesboro, Carlisle and Pottsville.

The third battalion of the 12th infantry regiment, under Major Joseph R. Carvill, with companies from Bradford, Kane, Warren and Franklin left camp yesterday for an overnight stay in the mountain section to the north and a maneuver against a mythical enemy.

The stimulated action took place early this morning, after which the western Pennsylvania guardsmen prepared to return to camp. The movement was done in army trucks, the guardsmen covering a distance of more than 50 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Lichtenstine of 606 Raymond street have returned from a 10-day motor trip. While away they visited in Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Floyd Childs and daughters Linda, Ruth and Doris and son Bobbie of Bethesda, O., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Scheidtmann of Castlewood Wednesday.

Joe Trax's Cannon Has Been Located

Interested People Suggest That It Be Secured And Be Used For Celebrations

Recently there has been some inquiry concerning what became of the little cannon that Joseph Trax, Civil war veteran, had made many years ago, from materials that many people gave him and which he had collected together as souvenirs of the Civil war. It has been located in the possession of relatives.

It is now several years since it has been used in any way, in fact it has never been used since the death of Mr. Trax. The suggestion that because of its historic value, it should be a public possession and be used on occasions, such as Memorial Day and similar occasions.

Asserts Long's Strength Fast Fading Away

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3.—The once powerful political kingdom of Senator Huey "Kingfish" Long is crumbling, and if an election were held tomorrow the man who has been virtual dictator of Louisiana for many years would go down to defeat by a 75,000-vote margin.

This was the claim of Francis Williams, member of the Louisiana public service commission and one of the leaders of the forces that have fought the "kingfish"—(or the "crawfish" as they call him now)—since 1925.

Wholesale desertions from the ranks of Long's followers are hamstringing the "kingfish", who suffered a trip-hammer blow at the hands of his enemies yesterday when discrepancies were shown in six ballot boxes used in the November election, according to Williams.

Anti-Long leaders pointed to the action of two criminal court judges, both elected on Huey's ticket, as proof of this.

Judge Frank Echezabal dismissed the pro-Long grand jury that had attempted to block a recount of the ballots and ordered selection of a new jury.

Judge Alexander O'Donnell made good his pledge to see that the boxes were opened and investigated in his court.

"When the crawfish, through his puppet governor, O. K. Allen, called out the militia to seize the boxes suspicion here ripened into full conviction that fraud was so gross an inspection of the ballots involved would startle the public," Williams declared.

The amendment involved in the ballot recount proposed issuance of bonds to purchase a Mississippi river ferry. It was defeated throughout the state, but an overwhelming majority, rolled up in the New Orleans precincts, gave it victory.

When they look that way now, they are ready to go bathing. In the old days they were ready to be spanked.

The greatest achievement of the radio is to make millions laugh at jokes that would seem dumb in print.

Nudity Is Removed From World's Fair By Chicago's Mayor

Mayor Kelly Inspects So-Called
Nude Shows And Orders Clothes Put On

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Bits of flimsy crepe Wednesday veiled the unblushing nudity of comely dancers at the world's fair in compliance with the reform wave demanded by Mayor Edward Kelly.

Threats of immediate action against proprietors of so-called nude shows in various concessions followed a visit of inspection by Mayor Kelly.

Performances that were especially objectionable, said the mayor, were Rhumba and nude show in the Manhattan Gardens, the fan dances at the Streets of Paris and "Lady Godiva on a Camel".

Three of the "livelier" shows in the oriental village were closed last night by detectives. One of these was the "Theater Comique," which featured men impersonating women.
Sally Rand, fan dancer at the Streets of Paris, reluctantly adopted a mite of gauze as her contribution to the reform movement.

Comparatively heavy drapes cloak-ed the nude woman in "Nudity on the Half Shell" in Paris while Hot-Cha-San did her dance in the concession Old Mexico with a coat of gilt covering her skin.

Some concessionaries threatened to start injunction proceedings to restrain Mayor Kelly.

Giants Split; Pirates Lose In 12 Innings

Cards Nose Out Pirates 4 To 3, As Phils And Giants Divide

SENATORS WIN; YANKEES TOPPED

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The National League pennant contenders went crazy with the heat yesterday. In Philadelphia an umpire collapsed and the Giants piled up a season's record of 18 runs and 24 hits in the second game of a double bill. In Pittsburgh the Cardinals and Pirates warmed up by wrangling with each other, for the second successive day. Two games in the Baker bowl hat-netted 38 runs and 55 hits. The Phils slaughtered four New York pitchers in the opener, 13 to 6. In the nightcap Joe Moore belted five hits and James Terry and O'Doul got four apiece, the Giants winning 18 to 1 behind Parmelee's steady pitching.

Ott Hits Three.
Mell Ott was the day's batting hero, however. The former school-phenom of the Giants belted his 14th, 13th and 14th homers of the year.

Bill Walker of the Cards and Floyd Vaughn of the Pirates put on the daily one-round bout at Pittsburgh, following a collision at first base. The winner, as usual, was the umpire, both players getting the gate. St. Louis won the ball game, 4 to 3, on Ducky Medwick's hit in the twelfth.

The Cubs gave Read Lucas the works in the first inning and trimmed Cincinnati 10 to 6. Bill Herman started at bat with four hits. Van Mungo hurled Brooklyn to a 3 to 1 win over the Braves after Ed Brandt had subdued the Dodgers in the opener, 8 to 5.

Senators Win.
In the American League race the Senators increased their lead over New York to two games by nosing out the Red Sox, 2 to 1, while the Yankees lost to Philadelphia. Players Battle As Pirates Are Beaten By Cards

Floyd Vaughn-Bill Walker Swing Fists In Heat Of Game At Pittsburgh

UMPIRE WINS AS PER USUAL

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3.—Their spirits fired by the second player battle in as many days, the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals were all even in wins and losses for the current series as they lined up for their third game today.

It begins to look like the National League is due to have "Washington-New York act" of its own. Taking up the cudgels of Tuesday's Swetonic-Watkins clash, shortstop Arky Vaughn of the Pirates and pitcher Bill Walker of the Cards mixed it in the ninth inning of yesterday's game.

The fight started when Vaughn crashed into Walker while trying to beat out a grounder to first base. The Redbird hurler ran to cover the bag while Pat Crawford, St. Louis first baseman, fielded the roller. Vaughn placed his hands in front of himself to avoid possible injury from collision, and Walker concluding the runner was rough bean flailing fists. Umpire Ernie Quigley stepped between the batters but not before several blows had been landed. The jammed stands of spectators added to the scene by showering the field with pop bottles.

Streak Broken.
Their 4-3 defeat in twelve innings yesterday ended an eight game winning streak of the Bucs. Pittsburgh held a 2-0 advantage going into the seventh, but the visitors tied the score and went a run ahead in the eighth. The count was evened at 3 all when the Pirates counted one in the ninth. Three singles produced the winning tally for the Fris men, as the home boys failed to even threaten in their half of the twelfth frame.

Heinie Meine started for the locals, was replaced by Leon Chagnon when he was solved in the seventh, the final innings being pitched by Larry French. French was charged with the defeat. St. Louis made eleven hits as against ten for the Pirates.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

ALEX. MORRISON says:
On many courses, even at this time of the year, where conditions warrant it, the player is allowed to tee up, that is, improve his lie on the fairway.

This is strictly a local rule which applies only to the fairways designated by the local greens committee. It doesn't mean that you can improve your lie on other parts of the course, such as in the rough or in bunkers and other hazards.

The purpose of the rule is to keep you from being penalized on a good shot that stays in the fairway.

It is not intended to enable you to avoid the penalty of sending your ball off the fairway.

Beasley Taking Blame For Davis Cup Team Defeat

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Mercer Beasley, unofficial coach of the United States Davis cup team, today offered to shoulder the blame for the defeat by England in the interzone final at Paris.

"If poor coaching was to blame, I'll take the rap," said the Princeton tennis coach. "However, I think overconfidence was the main reason for our defeat. The boys did not realize how much the English players had improved."

Beasley arrived home yesterday with Lester Stoecken, California, and Cliff Sutter, New Orleans, who competed at Wimbledon.

Kid Chocolate Not Impressive In Spanish Ring

(International News Service)
BARCELONA, Spain, Aug. 3.—Spanish fight fans were still grumbling today because Kid Chocolate, Cuban featherweight, failed to live up to his "man-eating" reputation last night in his bout with Francois Matchens, whom he defeated by decision in a 10-round bout.

Sporting writers were of the opinion that, although Chocolate, recognized by New York state as world champion in his class, tried desperately to score a knock-out, he was physically not equal to the task.

The spectators protested volubly when the Cuban bon-bon failed to land a knockout haymaker.

DUNN TAKES RAP AT TWO TEAMS

Charges Teams Stalled And Asks Game To Be Thrown Out

Jim Dunn, umpire-in-chief of the game between Mahoning A. A. and Monarchs Monday, on the E. & A. field today, reported to the league commission that he had called the tilt "no contest". He made a request of the commission that the teams be forced to replay the game.

According to Umpire Dunn, the score was 3 to 2, with the Monarchs in the lead, when the game went into the fifth frame. He said that both teams stalled for darkness, that he gave them five minutes to play and he was forced, he added, to call the game off.

In contrast to this game, Dunn pointed out that the Orr A. A. and Mahoning played a game in one hour and five minutes on the Lehigh field. In other words, he made it clear he would not let any team in the league stall and the managers and players could expect him to uphold his end of the game.

Recently another protest arrived at the commission office. Jake Vessella, manager of Pittsburgh, charged that Travers had not signed with Castle Flats and was ineligible to play July 23. He asked the game be thrown out. The facts in the case will be ascertained, and if as reported, according to Commissioners Dart and Fritz, the game will be thrown out.

DAN RYAN PICKS FIRST TWO TEAMS

McCullough and Hutnic Assigned First Team Hurling Honors

Dan Ryan who has watched all of the teams in the Lawrence County League in action has picked a first and second team. He selected the players from their hitting and fielding. According to Dan the first team hurlers are McCullough and Hutnic and the second team pitchers, Lowers and Miller.

Mahoning A. A. is given four players on the first team. The Tigers are represented only by McCullough. Castle Flats has Byak and Paul Ryan on the first team and the Polish Nationals, now engaged in leading the second half race has two on the team, viz, Steve Vincent, an infielder and Glasser, an outfielder.

Nick Biondi and Sam Chilli, gardeners of the Tigers are on the second team. Mahoning breaks in fairly well on the second team with two players. They're Piccaro, second baseman and Mike Calipetri. Volant has Miller on the second team, likewise Third Baseman Gall who formerly was a Tiger.

Ryan's Selections.

Second team: Joe Fruit, shortstop, Polish Nationals; Andy Gall, third baseman, Orrs; Nick Biondi, left fielder, Tigers; Sam Chilli, center fielder, Tigers; Maslyk, right fielder, Polish Nationals; Peck Huston, first baseman and pitcher, Tigers; Piccaro, second baseman, Mahoning A. A.; Mike Calipetri, catcher, Mahoning A. A.; Lowers, pitcher, Orrs and Miller, hurler, Volant.

It is probable that Dan's selections may not be met with the wholehearted approval of fans. It is likely that Dan knew this. Nevertheless he started something when he had the courage to pick what he, as a dyed-in-the-wool fan, believed to be the best two teams in the Lawrence county league.

Service Divisions To Battle Friday

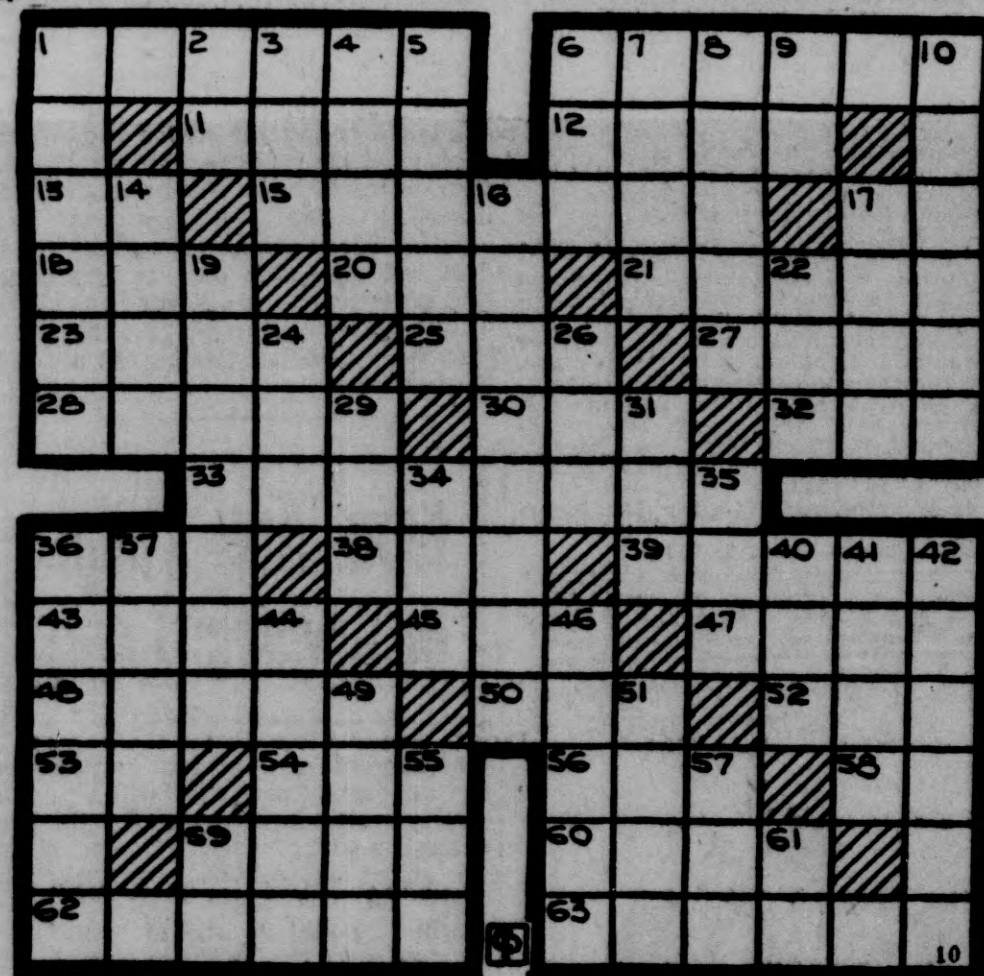

New Castle Masonic Group Will Play Men From Other Districts Friday

Members of the New Castle district, of the Service Division of the Consistory, will battle against the cream of the golfers outside the city, who compose the service divisions, at the New Castle Field Club, Friday evening.

Two matches have been played during the past month, the different groups playing at Sharon, as a central point. The locals won out by a fraction of a point on these previous occasions, but will find the sharpshooters of the surrounding towns eager to take them over in the third match. Play will start around 6 o'clock.

Codes or no codes, the night watchmen will be able to get by, because the limitations upon working hours apply only to weeks made up of days.—The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Good RecoveryMarket Support Comes At End of First Hour's TradingPROFIT-TAKING
IS IN EVIDENCE(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The stock market worked lower today on profit-taking induced by yesterday's rally.

Other restricting influences were lower commodity prices and the action of the stock exchange to restrict speculation through tightening margin requirements.

Liquor stocks led the reaction, losses running to 3 points and more. Other heavy spots were Western Union, Auburn and Du Pont.

The market met support at the end of the first hour and recovered most of the lost ground. Trading continued light.

The strength in grains in the last 2 days brought heavy profit-taking into the Chicago pit and losses ran to a cent a bushel in the early dealings. A rally developed later. Cotton opened firm and then tumbled $1 a bale. Other commodities were irregular. Bonds were quiet and mixed.

The revival of inflationary rumors, responsible for yesterday's upturn, was apparent only in foreign exchange where the dollar fell to around 72 cents gold. Sterling nearly 6 cents higher at $4.59 but gave up part of its rise in the later dealings.

Presidential Business Goes On

President Roosevelt's vacation at family homestead at Hyde Park, N. Y., isn't causing any let-up in executive business, nor in entertainment of distinguished visitors. Snapshots made at summer White House show Mr. Roosevelt with Mr. and Mrs. James Mollison, British transatlantic fliers; Miss Hachmeister, telephone operator, and E. W. Smithers, private telegrapher; and (below) a scene in the business office, with (l. to r.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—President Roosevelt's plans to increase the fighting strength of the navy today were launched under full swing with the award of contracts by the navy department for the 22 ships to be constructed in private yards and the allocation of the remainder of the 16 vessels to be built in government yards.

Disregarding charges by Senator Trammell (D) of Florida, that four great shipbuilding companies, The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Co., the New York Shipbuilding Co., the United Dry Docks, Inc., and the Newport News Shipbuilding Co., had "connived" in offering bids on three cruisers the navy department awarded the contracts as follows: To the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corp., Quincy, Mass., one heavy cruiser for the fixed price of $11,720,000, without adjustment for changes in labor and material costs.

ARMOUR AND COMPANY

THE Board of Directors of Armour and Company (Illinois) has approved and submitted to stockholders, for vote on August 22, 1933, a Plan for readjustment and simplification of the capital structure of the Company. Holders of a very large number of shares of stock have already indicated their approval by sending in their proxies.

The management believes that this Plan affords to all classes of stockholders a real opportunity materially to improve the financial structure of their Company, and in doing so to place themselves in a position directly to benefit from such improvement.

In order that this Plan may be adopted, it is important that the stock of the corporation be represented as fully as possible at the meeting to be held on August 22, 1933. Stockholders and holders of voting trust certificates who have not yet sent in their proxies are therefore urged to do so at once.

Full details with respect to the Plan and its benefits are contained in the President's letter dated July 14, 1933 and enclosures, copies of which will be mailed upon request.

Mrs. Jessie Burnett Costello, on trial for the poison death of her fire captain husband, today dramatically brought to a close her long story. She was in tears as she faced the jury of 12 married men and denied that she killed "my Bill."

Immediately, District Attorney Hugh A. Clegg began a merciless cross examination.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 3.—A move was under way today which may end the milk strike in which steel-helmeted state police have clubbed striking dairy farmers and hundreds of cans of milk have been dumped in central and northern New York in the last 48 hours.

The state milk control board is expected to confer shortly with a committee of the striking dairymen.

The Art
Of Owing Money

Probably more people are in debt now than at any time since 1890—and 99% of those people are honest. Let us presume that you have several past due accounts.

You have just gone back to work. You would like to pay them in full, but you cannot.

May we suggest four rules to keep faith with the man you owe—First—Get the jump on your creditor, telephone, write or go and see him, make a payment of what you can, and tell him your circumstances.

Second—Make arrangements to take care of the account in weekly, semi-weekly, semi-monthly or monthly payments.

Third—Don't make any promises you cannot keep.

Fourth—CONTINUE DEALING WITH THE MAN TO WHOM YOU OWE MONEY—Your account may not be in the best shape, but since you must keep buying goods of the same general sort, you can show good faith and honest intentions. It also gives him a little profit to help carry your past due account on his books.

By living up to these simple rules, it won't be long until you will be back in the class of PROMPT PAYERS

Expect Thousands To Come For Consistory Picnic On August 9

Masons from Lake Erie to the West Virginia line, and from Ohio to the Delaware river are expected to be in New Castle August 9 when the Valley of New Castle, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, will hold a picnic in Cascade Park. The picnic is being sponsored by the Legion of Honor, in conjunction with the Caliph of Bagdad and the Wino-dausia.

At a meeting of the general committee held Wednesday night in the Cathedral, reports from the outlying sections were that the picnic idea had taken hold throughout the counties served by the Valley of New Castle, and barring bad weather Cascade Park should be jammed for the event on Wednesday of next week.

Full Program

There will not be a dull minute of the day from noon until midnight, according to Earl Moffatt, general chairman of the day. Golf, races, dancing and the amusements of the park offer recreation of many kinds, and the general committee in charge is making sure that no guest will leave without having had his full share of pleasure in the day.

As each picnicer enters the park he will be asked to register and the youngsters he has with him will be given a prize package containing candy, fruit and free tickets to a number of the amusements. For the golfing bugs a tournament will be in progress all day at the Municipal golf course. Any member of the fraternity can enter at any time up until four o'clock. This includes both men and women.

Fred L. Rentz, chairman of the reception committee, announced his committee members Wednesday night. They include: William J. Moffatt, John E. Elliot, Walter S. Reynolds, William H. Dunlap, Thomas W. Dickey, D. S. Pyle, William Woods, W. H. Kleckner, Wesley Davy, W. Stanley Trester, L. B. Round, D. O. Davies, Jos. S. Rice, James P. Cope, J. Russell Urmson, B. H. Kannenberg, Captain Charles B. Phillips, Dennis Rieser, New Kensington; W. L. Dean, Ellwood City; Chester Morrow, Franklin; Merle Ralsley, Beaver Falls; Samuel Hadley, Sharon.

General Committee

The general committee consists of Earl C. Moffatt, chairman; Chester C. Sweesy, Wilbur Chapman, Chris G. Walker, Ross Auble. At the meeting Wednesday night General Chairman Moffatt asked for reports from committees and was assured that everything was progressing. George Bechtel, in charge of sports, said that his program would start at two p. m., eastern standard time, and that there were events for everybody. W. S. Trester and L. B. Round reported that the prize bag committee was prepared to furnish the loaded bags at the proper time, and William J. Lewis said the dance arrangements were completed. Chester C. Sweesy reported the program as being ready for the printer.

The guests will register as they enter the park and the registration arrangements are in charge of the Yellow Dogs. Which guarantees success. Mrs. Roy A. Long, in charge of women's activities, assured the general committee that the women were interested and working and that their end of the activities would be well handled.

Wednesday night's meeting was the last of the general committee meetings. General Chairman Moffatt is confident that everything is in good shape, and weather permitting, this picnic should be what is known in the parlance of the theater as a wowser.

Mahoning School Reunion Draws Over Two Hundred

There's a long, long trail a'windin'—and it led right to the Mahoning school building on Wednesday. With 100 former students present at the program and business meeting in the school building and 200 at the picnic which followed at Cascade Park, yesterday's reunion took place in history as being not only the most enjoyable but the largest ever conducted here.

There were a large number of guests from out-of-town present, many of whom had never been to a Mahoning school reunion before.

At two o'clock the crowd began gathering at the school building, making registration, renewing old friendships. At three o'clock Mrs. Robert Magill announced the following program, an excellent one, and presented in the assembly room.

Address of Welcome—Miss Nannie Mitchell, school principal.

Talk—Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of city schools.

Readings—Miss Elizabeth Milholland, graduate of oratory, Geneva College. Her numbers were "The Wedding" and "Johnnie's Piece."

Violin numbers, "A Barcarolle," and "Czardas"—Michael Caruso.

The first was his own composition, the second by Monte. He was accompanied at the piano by Emil Branstetter.

Vocal numbers, "Sing Me To Sleep" by Edwin Greene and "Crystal Gazer" by Walter Kramer—Mrs. Clinton Keagy.

A number of former pupils who had not been to the reunions before and former teachers, gave interesting little talks concerning their school days. The election of officers took place with all the former officers being re-elected as follows: President, Harvey Gwin; vice president, John Thoman; secretary, Wm. McGaughey; treasurer, Ralph Wetlich; chairman of arrangements, Frank Barnes and committee, Robt. Sheehy, John Louer, Bessie Coates, Pitzer and Ella Magill.

John B. Patterson of Wampum, 86 years of age, was present and was among those who gave short talks concerning their school days. Mr. Patterson was janitor of Mahoningtown school for 18 years. Other speakers included Miss Mayne Artherholt, Mrs. W. C. Mechem and Mrs. Maud Daugherty Patterson, teachers. Mr. Leslie, a former principal, was present.

Letters were received from Margaret Paisley Richmond, California; Mrs. Mary Eichbaum Simpson, Bristol, Tenn.; and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Coates, Constantine, Mich.

At Cascade Park the guests kept arriving in such numbers that the committee began to wonder where to place them. A delicious picnic supper was enjoyed, followed by the playing of bingo. Numerous prizes were awarded. Dancing in the park pavilion brought the day to a perfect close.

Numbered among the out-of-towners present were Ethel J. Thompson, New York City, Elizabeth Bevan Walker, Warren, O., C. C. Pitzer, Warren, O., Dr. J. O. Brown, Ellwood City, J. P. Patterson, Wampum, Guy and Edna Davis Hildebrand, of Olivet, Mich., James H. Garrett, of Willard, O., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnes and son Robert, of Pittsburgh, Mazie Hammond Griffin, husband and daughter, of Sharon, Theo Thompson Woods, Alliance, O., Margaret Walker, Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Shriver, Youngstown, O., Mrs. A. G. Berjest of Conneaut, O., Mae Churchfield Bronstetter, of Pittsburgh, Frank Hamilton and son of Dayton, O., W. W.
